32nd ANNUAL FESTIVAL 2015

The 32nd EDC Festival comes to Bath, a World Heritage site, famed internationally for its Roman and Georgian past.

Friday: the Festival begins with a light supper at 7:45 pm after which Heather Toomer, the well-known lace historian, will present an exhibition entitled "Lace for the Ball: 1600 onwards" illustrating the development of lace through the centuries. A wide selection of examples from Heather's extensive collection will be on display.

Saturday: the morning will, as usual, be taken up with rehearsals by all the performing groups.

The afternoon will begin with the AGM at 1.15pm – please come and make your contribution to the running and development of your society. The Festival itself will follow on at 2.00 – 5.45. As well as group and solo demonstrations, there will, of course, be the customary three sessions of general dancing.

Tables will again be available for those who wish to sell their products, and these must be booked in advance, at fee of £6.00 per table payable when booking..

The Evening Party starts with a buffet supper at 6.45 pm, followed by an evening of general dancing called by Sue Horsham, with music provided again by Stradivarius.

Sunday: Bath offers many delights for our Sunday visit:

The Fashion Museum (formerly Museum of Costume) hosts a Special Exhibition: "Georgians – Dress for Polite Society" (10:30-6:00; £8.25, c£7.25).

The Holburne Museum (open 11-5 pm; free entry) offers a delightful permanent collection of 18th century decorative arts and, that weekend, a special exhibition is opening, "Gold from the Royal Collection" (£8.50; c£7.50).

In case neither is for you, information about a range of attractions will be sent out with your tickets, and leaflets will be available at the Festival on Saturday. If you want to start making your plans now, go to www.visitbath.co.uk. Bath has something for everyone.

Please note: all meals must be ordered in advance. Please fill in the relevant part of the Form, clearly indicating your choice of vegetarian or meat options and specifying any allergies or other dietary requirements. Tea and coffee will be available throughout the day.
